The Waikato VHF Group Inc. as a branch of NZART supports the aims and objects of our national association which provides services to benefit all radio amateurs. Among those are IARU and Local Government liaison, involving time and effort spent protecting our ability to participate in amateur radio as a hobby, yet only one third of licensed amateurs in New Zealand are members of NZART. The other two thirds are enjoying benefits won through work done on our behalf without contributing towards funding that organisation.

NZART publishes one of the most internationally respected amateur radio magazines, "Break-In", the fortnightly "Infoline" via email, as well as maintaining a web site full of amateur radio information.

Properly funding NZART benefits all amateurs in New Zealand. Individual operators no longer pay an annual amateur radio licence fee (one of the concessions won by NZART), so if you're not an NZART member, how about becoming one today for just $2.00 per week.
